LARGE CROWDS AT SESSIONS

Many Members of Local Organization Attend Convention of The Indiana District.

The twenty-fourth annual convention of the Walther League of the Indiana district adjourned at Columbus late Monday following a picnic and supper at a grove near the city. Many members of the local organization of the Evangelical Lutheran church were in attendance at the various sessions. The convention is described by local Leaguers as one of the most interesting ever held in this district.

The officers were named at the closing session which was held Monday morning. Lester Baade, of Ft. Wayne, was elected president to succeed F. A. Dieckman, of Evansville. Other officers for the coming year are:

Vice-president—Lawrence G. Scheidt, of Columbus.

Secretary—Miss Lillian Fedder, of Hammond.

Treasurer—Louis Brandt, of Indianapolis.

Indianapolis was chosen as the next meeting place, and the exact date of the convention in 1921 will be announced later.

During the year six new societies have been organized, the report of J. R. Potzger, field secretary, showed. During the convention plans were discussed for the annual national convention of the League which will be held in July in Evansville.

Quite a number of Walther Leaguers from Seymour and Jackson County attended the business session and picnic Monday. The local representation Sunday was large and some of the Seymour members remained in Columbus throughout the convention.

Among those from this city who attended the district convention Sunday and Monday, were Rev. and Mrs. E. H. Eggers, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Holtman, Mr. and Mrs. George Lambring, Dr. and Mrs. G. H. ROTARY CLUB VISITS
SEYMOUR WOOLEN MILLS

Process of Manufacture of Raw
Wool Into the Finished Product
Shown to Rotarians.

The Seymour Rotary Club held its noon luncheon in the rest room at the Seymour Woolen Mill where they were guests of Don A. Bollinger, president of the mills. T. S. Bish, president of the Rotary Club, presided. The rest room has been fitted up recently by the mill for the benefit of the employees for meetings and entertainments of various kinds. A buffet luncheon was served by the ladies of the M. E. church.

Prior to the luncheon, Prof. T. A. Mott emphasized the advantages which the Seymour Art League offers to the city and extended an invitation to the Rotarians to attend the reception at the high school building tonight.

Following the luncheon, Don A. Bollinger made a brief statement about the antiquity of wool and some of the uses to which it has been put in the past. He explained briefly the processes of manufacture from the raw wool to the finished flannel goods and blankets. At the conclusion of his talk the members of the club were taken through the plant by Mr. Bollinger, assisted by George T. Bartlett, superintendent, and Charles A. Hemmer, bookkeeper. Beginning with the sorting of wool, the various processes of washing, dyeing, carding, spinning, weaving, shrinking, napping and packing were shown. The trip through the mill was a revelation to many members of the club, both as to the size of the plant and the quantity of work which is done. It proved exceptionally interesting and instructive meeting of the club. Souvenir sample pieces were given the members during their visit.

Golf Grounds Adjoining Diamonds Proposed by Advocates of Game—Interest General.

The soliciting committees appointed at a recent meeting of the newly organized Athletic Association plan to make a "home run" so far as funds are concerned during the present week. The officers of the association originally planned to get the grounds in readiness for a game on June 6, but conditions have arisen which will make this impossible. The grounds to be used by the Athletic Association were leased last fall and were sown to clover. The owner of the clover does not wish to lose the hay but this will be ready to harvest within a few days and immediately after it is cut the work on the diamonds will be started.

Fred Able, president of the association, and other officers are asked many times each day when the baseball park will be opened. It is explained that the officers are doing everything in their power to push the preliminary arrangements but at the same time it is emphasized that the work cannot be completed until sufficient money is available.

$57,000 SPENT IN STATE FOR WOOD

Frederick Joss, Indiana Campaign Manager, Testified Before the Senate Committee

COMPLIANCE FOR THE LAW

Wood and Harding Each Spent About $100,000 in Ohio Before Primaries, Wolfe Testifies.

Washington, June 1.—Between $57,000 and $58,000 was spent in Major General Wood primary campaign, Frederick A. Joss, of Indianapolis, Wood organizer, told the senate campaign expenditures investigating committee today.

Joss said the Indiana state corrupt practices act "was complied with in every respect" although other candidates, he said took the view that the state laws did not apply to presidential primaries. Joss said General Wood personally appointed him Indiana manager at a conference January 5 but added he had conferred with Wood and Col. Procter last August or September.

At that time it was thought Governor Goodrich would be a candidate and there was some doubt whether Wood would enter the primary as a candidate.

"When you thought Governor Goodrich would be a candidate did you expect to make an active campaign?" Reed asked.

"I think we did," Joss said. He said the legal opinion of the Indiana primary law was obtained shortly after Goodrich withdrew.

"I am a little curious that the very first thing it did was to look up the law to see the top limit of money you could spend," Reed said.

"We were up against a Republican organization," Joss said, "and our only hope of success was—"

"Money," Reed broke in.

"Let him state it in his own words," Pomerene shouted.

"Our only hope was in popularizing General Wood," Joss continued.

"And you tried to do that because you expected to get the money?" Reed asked.

Robert Wolfe, of Columbus, O., newspaper publisher, testified concerning the Harding president campaign. He said he thought the Wood and Harding campaign in Ohio, each cost about $100,000, but denied exact knowledge.

PALMER ANSWERS
CHARGES OF POST

Claims Assistant Secretary of Labor is Seeking to Block Deportation Laws.

DEPARTMENTS ARE AT ODDS

Allegations Against Palmer are Characterized by Him as "Outrageous Falsehoods."

Washington, June 1.—"By the wholesale jail deliveries and release of self-confession anarchists of the worst type" Assistant Secretary of Labor Post is seeking to block enforcement of deportation laws and to bring "in public disrepute" law officers of the government, Attorney General Palmer today charged before the house rules committee.

Palmer's statement was in answer to recent Post testimony before the committee during hearings on a resolution of Representative Hoke which would start impeachment proceedings against the labor officials. Post claimed Palmer has mistreated aliens held for deportation and violated the laws regarding them. Similar charges were made by the national popular government league.

The Palmer statement today revealed a bitter strife between the two departments over the deportation question. Palmer declared "red" agitators were seeking to minimize their activities so they could proceed unmolested. The I. W. W.'s, are seeking to merge the railroad brotherhoods into "one big union," he said.

Forty examples in which Palmer claimed Post has violated the deportation laws were cited by Palmer who said Post's charges were "outrageous falsehoods."

by French Guard.

Berlin, June 1.—General Leonard, chief of the French commission to Upper Silesia, has been asked by the American mission to investigate the shooting of Arnold Heide, American lecturer, killed by a French guard in Beuthen yesterday.

Only vague reports of the actual shooting have been obtainable. They said French authorities stopped a tramcar on which Heide was riding; that he was arrested and while disputing with the soldiers was shot by one of the French guards.

CONTESTS DECIDED AT OPEN HEARINGS

Governor Lowden Probably Will Get
all The Eight Votes in Question in G. O. P. Convention.

WOOD LEADING WITH 238

Factional Disputes and Local Issues
Determined Before Temporary Roll Call.

By United Press.

Chicago, June 1.—Leaders of the organization supporting Governor Frank O. Lowden for the presidential nomination were openly optimistic today when the Republican national committee here resumed its unique open hearings of contested delegations inaugurated by Chairman Wm. S. Hays. While none of the Lowden men would officially commit himself, it was generally accepted that the organization had gained all of the eight contested delegates temporarily seated by the committee yesterday—one from Alabama and seven from Arkansas. Contesting delegates who lost were understood to be for Major General Leonard Wood. Assuming the unofficial claims of the Lowden organization are borne out in the convention the vote on the initial ballot exclusive of the 114 contests yet to be decided, would appear to be:

Wood 238; Lowden 177; Senator Hiram Johnson 161; Nicholas Murray Butler 88; Governor William C. Sproul 76; Senator Warren G. Harding 48; Governor Calvin Coolidge 29; Senator Howard Sutherland 16; Miles Poindexter 14.

The candidacies of the presidential aspirants have in no way entered into the hearings to date, the national committee making its decisions for the temporary roll of the convention purely upon the legal and party organization questions involved. In each case so far an entirely different element has appeared. For instance, in Arkansas it was the race question while in Florida, it was purely a tri-factional fight.

The committee completed the case of the eight Florida delegates yesterday and referred the confusing legal technicalities to a sub-committee which was to make its report today. The "regular" delegation, headed by national committeeman, George W. Bean, is openly for Wood. The first contesting delegation, led by H. L. Anderson, is merely anti-Wood. The second group of contestants, under W. L. Van Duzer, is understood to be for Lowden.

The first case to be considered today was that of three sets of delegates contesting for the two seats from the District of Columbia. This is another factional battle and all of the contestants are understood to be friendly to Wood.

The case of 15 contesting delegates from Georgia was to be presented next. This is an out and out fight between Wood and Lowden delegations.

The feature of the hearings aside

OHIO REFERENDUM ON PROHIBITION HELD INVALID

Supreme Court Holds Ratification by Legislature is Final—Injunction Granted.

Washington, June 1.—The Ohio referendum of last November as the result of which the state attempted to withdraw its legislature's ratification of the prohibition amendment is unconstitutional, the supreme court today decided.

The court held that the ratification of any constitutional amendment by a legislature is final.

It also granted an injunction restraining the state's officials from submitting the woman's suffrage amendment to a referendum next fall. Ohio's legislature ratified the prohibition amendment, but "wets" succeeded in calling a referendum, but voters decided against national prohibition. Proceedings were at once started to enable Ohio to withdraw its ratification and the state's supreme court in Ohio decided that the prohibition referendum was legal.

EXPERIENCES OF THE CIVIL WAR RECALLED

Wm. E. Trueblood, of Marysville, Mo., Tells of His Enlistment in Grassy Fork Township.

There are moments in almost every person's life when fond memory loves to wander back to childhood home or the home of their birth. I was born in Grassy Fork township, Jackson County and still have many relatives and friends in and around Brownstown, Vallonia, Tampico, Crothersville and Seymour. I was reared to manhood in Grassy Fork.

When war was declared in 1861, President Lincoln called for troops to defend the Union which designing enemies had sought to destroy. When the call was made for 300,000 troops, fourteen men from Grassy Fork township, including myself, volunteered in a company being made up by Thomas B. Tanner, of Brownstown, who later on was commissioned Captain of Co. B., 22nd. Vol. Inf.

After the quota of the company had been filled, an order was received from Laz Noble, Adjutant General of the state requiring Tanner to report his company for muster at the fair grounds near North Madison. Tanner and his men from Brownstown, Vallonia, Cortland and Salt Creek were ordered to assemble

This Company Produces Basic Necessities—Only

CONCURRENT with its national advertising, the management of the Midwest Engine Company has come to the conclusion that the people of Indiana should be told certain things about our broad policies, what we stand for, the position we occupy in the industrial field, and what we are successfully accomplishing.

We do not underestimate the importance of having the people of our own home State fully informed about us. Our national advertising is causing friends and passing acquaintances of Indiana people to ask repeatedly "What do you know about the Midwest Engine Company?" To date we have not put the people of Indiana in position to intelligently answer this question.

We propose now, by a series of frank statements, to make up for this oversight.

The first and most important fact that we want you to realize is that the Midwest Engine Company is one of the largest and most successful institutions of its kind in the world. You can count on the fingers of your two hands all other manufacturing institutions in the so-called power field, measuring up, in production capacity, with the Midwest Engine Company.

We also want you to know that the products of the Midwest Engine Company are world known: (1) for the correctness of their engineering; (2) for their fineness of quality and, (3) for the service they are rendering in the hands of the user.

The soundness of Midwest engineering and the high quality of Midwest products are universally recognized.

There are many other facts about the Midwest Engine Company which every citizen of Indiana should know. At this time, however, we will mention but one more, namely, the strength, successful accomplishments, and unusual caliber of the Midwest organization.

Overlooking the management, which is composed of experienced, capable specialists, each in his own particular line, no factory organization possesses a higher order of mentality throughout than does the Midwest Engine Company's workmen personnel. The performance records of Midwest products conclusively support this statement.

In your travels about the country, when any one asks you about the Midwest Engine Company, purely in a spirit of cooperation with the industries of your home State, tell him: (1) that the Midwest Engine Company is one of the largest producers of motive power in the world; (2) that its products are recognized for their engineering correctness, and quality of service, and, (3) that the Midwest organization has developed to a point where its work ranks with the finest produced.

We feel that these facts, along with other facts we will present within the next few days, should be thoroughly known by every loyal supporter of Indiana Industries before the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World meet in Indianapolis on June 6th.

We would welcome similar information about other important Indiana institutions so that we, through our contact with people, and through our publicity efforts, may reciprocate in kind.

PROF. BROOKS TO SPEAK AT THE ART EXHIBIT

Well Known Lecturer to Give Address at High School Building Tonight.

Prof. Alfred M. Brooks of the art department of Indiana University, will deliver a lecture tonight to the members of the Art League at the high school at 8 o'clock. The public is most cordially invited. Prof. Brooks is well known to the club women as well as to the art lovers of Indiana, as he lectures to women's clubs all over the state. The Brown County Artist's Exhibit is interesting the artistic people of Seymour, about ninety having visited the high school Sunday afternoon, and the pictures have been the subject of much favorable comment.

Each year the Art League offers a prize of $25.00 to the high school pupil exhibiting the best painting, and during the seven years of its existence, six pupils have continued their art studies after graduation here, of which three prize winners, Miss Gertrude Sweeney, Miss Edris Hughes, and Miss Veva Paul are teachers in various schools. Miss Frieda Kasting, after three years of study at the Cincinnati Art School, will be graduated this spring, and Miss Thelma Alberring and Miss Emma Simmons are still students. For the encouragement and help the league has given these pupils, if for no other reason, it is deserving of the support of the public, and should number every progressive citizen among its members. It is hoped that a large audience will greet Prof. Brooks this evening, and enjoy the pictures from our neighbor, Brown county.

WORKS HARD TO AVERT FLU EPIDEMIC

Government and City Health Officials Warn People to Keep Clean.

Stay Away from People with Coughs and Colds.

"Avoid crowds if you want to avoid influenza," says Association for Improving the Conditions of
New York.

Keep your hands clean, drink plenty of fresh water; sleep with windows open; eat three uniform
meals a day including a good breakfast.

People who have catarrh or frequent colds invite influenza, declares a prominent Kentucky druggist.

The membrane of the throat
and nose is raw, sore and tender,
and makes a lovely abiding place
for germs to thrive and multiply.

He advises an inexpensive homemade remedy that will bring relief in less than a day and will stop all discharge and soothe and heal the inflamed membrane in a few days.

Thousands are making this beneficial remedy at home and anyone who has catarrh or a cold can do the same.

Pour three-quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arcine into a pint bottle, then fill the bottle with water that has been boiled.

Gargle the throat as directed and snuff or spray the liquid into the nostrils twice daily. It's a simple way to get rid of cold and catarrh and keeps the nasal passage and throat clean and healthy.

Nearly all druggists dispense Mentholized Arcine in vials containing exactly three-quarters of an ounce, which is all you need to make a pint of this healthful medicine.

MORE BENEFITS SURE TO FOLLOW WOMAN'S BELIEF

Intends To Continue Using Trutona
To Add Reserve Strength
To Her System.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 31—Mrs.
Ruth Mulryan, a well-known young Indianapolis woman who lives at 412 West Henry Street, is deeply grateful for the remarkable work Trutona did in her case. One needs to read her following statement to become convinced that Trutona is possessed of unusual merit. Below is what Mrs. Mulryan said about the perfect tonic the other day:

"I was taken down sick a week ago last Wednesday with a terrible headache. I had a high fever and my back pained me dreadfully. In fact, it seemed that every bone in my body ached. I could hardly stand it."

"I was advised to try Trutona and it certainly worked like magic on my system. From the very first I started to improve, and today, I'm able to do my own work again. The pain in my back has disappeared and my head doesn't trouble me any more."

"I intend to continue using Trutona, for if one bottle will do so much good, I'm sure there are further benefits in it for me. I'm thankful for the relief Trutona gave me and I hope every one, troubled
as I was, will try this wonderful medicine."

Trutona's healthful action reaches every portion of the body, and performs its work faithfully and efficiently. Trutona rebuilds diseased nerves and tissues, creates a healthful appetite and assists in the assimilation and digestion of the food.

Trutona is now being introduced and explained in Seymour at W. L.
Fiedermann's Drug Store.

duction of an informal attorney for the committee who weighs the legal aspects and presents the motion for seating one of the delegations.
Charles B. Warren, national committeeman from Michigan, is acting in this capacity.

Although Senator Johnson is practically content to run third on the opening ballot certain party leaders in no way friendly to him have begun to admit privately that he is going to "exercise veto power over the convention." This may be interpreted as meaning that Johnson even should he be defeated, may be in a position to dictate absolutely who shall be the nominee. But it may also be interpreted as meaning that Johnson's friends will practically force him to carry the fight for his own nomination to the last ditch.

Johnson not only represents himself in his candidacy, but is the recognized leader of the "Progressive wing" in which Senator William Borah, Senator Lafollette and others are factors. If Johnson should feel constrained to withdraw because of the danger of disrupting
the party organization, his friends may not be similarly inclined. It was pointed out and may use the senator's undoubted strength as a club.

Mile Motor Classic.

JINX STILL WITH DEPALMA

Italian Driver Had Apparently Won
First When Gasoline Supply
Gave Out.

By United Press.

Indianapolis, June 1—Gaston
Chevrolet, of Indianapolis, today
was the idol of motor race fans.

Because of the consistent run in the 500-mile auto classic here yesterday, he was hailed today as pilot premier. The youngest of the three Chevrolet brothers didn't drive his Monroe too hard nor did he let up at any stage of the game, the exhausted eaters said.

Although Ralph DePalma was the favorite during the greater part of the race, the crowd turned its cheering toward the Monroe driver as soon as he forged into the lead. He received an ovation each time his little speeder took the turns.

DePalma's eternal jinx, brought sympathy from the crowd but lost
him the victory when it apparently was in his grasp. Official announcement today said that DePalma's car
did not catch fire, but that his gasoline supply was exhausted at one time and that when the fire was thought to have started again, he had ignition trouble.

Visitors who came here from long distance and from nearby towns straggled home today. Some started to jam the trains last night just as they crowded the track yesterday.
Special trains which came from Texas and other distant points returned late last night with their human cargo. The attendance was estimated officially at 120,000, which was 10-000 more than the previous record established in 1914.

The French Ballot car obtained
three positions in the money. Rene Thomas finished second and Jean Chassagne seventh. DePalma also drove a Ballot. Tommy Milton and Jimmy Murphy each in a Duesenberg came in third and fourth respectively.

Chevrolet's average was 88.55
miles per hour. He won the $20,000 offered as first prize and $1,300 of the lap prize, which was apportioned $100 to the winner of each lap of 2 1/2 miles. Ralph DePalma won $8,300 of the lap prize and $3,000
as fifth prize from the Speedway.
Joe Boyer, in a Frontenac who led the field early in the race won $9,500
in the lap prizes.

that the park was filled with people

by the Seymour Concert Band Sun-

park. The swimming pool was open and a number took advantage of the opportunity to enjoy their first swim

SOLICITORS PLAN SPEEDY CAMPAIGN

ization the solicitors were asked to complete their canvass as soon as possible, but because of the high school commencement week festivities and other events which commanded first attention of the committees little progress was made.
Mr. Able stated this morning, however, that the sale of stock would be pushed rapidly and that he hoped that sufficient money would be available before the close of this week to finance the undertaking.

The stock, it is explained, is sold as a business proposition. No one is asked to buy one or more shares as a contribution. Those who are in charge of the Association believe that the park will be a profitable investment and after this season a substantial dividend will be paid.
This year, of course, the money paid in will be used to get the grounds in condition, build the grandstand and buy such equipment as is necessary.
The investment will be permanent and the receipts will be more than sufficient to maintain the grounds, it is thought. The stock is being placed on the market as an investment, although those who have purchased it feel that the Athletic Association is a good thing for the city and is worthy of their financial support, regardless of possible financial return.

There are quite a number of devoted of golf in this city and they are planning to have golf grounds adjoining the ball park. The grounds will be sown in blue grass this fall,
it is stated, and ought to be in good condition for playing next spring.

The golf grounds will also be under the supervision of the Athletic Association.

It is uncertain just when the first ball game will be played. The men who are interested in the organization of the Athletic Association feel confident that the undertaking will be a success and do not propose to let the proposition lag now. While it is just a little late, perhaps, to get the grounds in the best of shape for this year, a schedule of games can easily be arranged if the financial problem is overcome at once.

farm near Bedford. Recently he decided the remainder to three sons by his first wife and decided to start over again with the money he had saved.

While waiting for a train at Union Station last night, Stipp decided to take a walk. Mrs. Stipp said she would wait at the station with the children. Two hours later he returned without the money, and told the following story:

"I walked west from the station and had gone about two blocks when a man came up and asked me if I wanted a taxi. I told him I didn't, that I was just walking around. Then another came up and drew a revolver, and the two compelled me to get into an automobile.

"They drove west and north and finally compelled me to get out and go into a house, in which there were three negro women. One of the men threatened me with the revolver and the other emptied my money belt. Then they gave me something to eat and drove me back to a place about two blocks from the station, where they told me to get out of the machine."

Stipp could not give the address of the house to which he had been taken. The money, he said, was in bills as follows: One $500, three $100, seven $50, eighty-five $20 and fifteen $10.

The police are investigating Stipp's story.

Special Steels Eliminate Useless Weight
in a

MAXWELL

The reason the Maxwell engine is so responsive and yet thrifty, the reason the tires roll into big mileage is due largely to one fact: A Maxwell is burdened with no useless weight.

Special steels make this so. They are made to Maxwell's own formulae. No other steels in any car are just like them.

These special steels are of great strength and make possible the ideal Maxwell construction of brute strength with light weight.

Obviously, they are high priced metals. They equal, pound for pound, the steels in any car built.

The wisdom of their use in the Maxwell becomes evident when one observes the rapid growth in public favor of this remarkable car.

Consider that nearly 400,000 of them are now in use; that 100,000 more will be added to this total in 1920.

Both Parties Advocate Erection of Structure for Legion Headquarters.

By United Press.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 1.—No longer is there doubt that the people of Indiana favor the erection of a memorial building in the capital as a recognition for services performed by Hoosier men and women in the World War. More than 2,500 delegates, belonging to both of the dominant political parties and sent here by a direct vote of the citizens of the state, have gone on record as endorsing the project.

The action of the Republican and Democratic conventions in adopting platform planks approving the state war memorial building has done more than merely removing a fear that it was an unattainable undertaking; it has completely removed the proposition from partisan politics.

A glance at the planks will show beyond peradventure of doubt that the question of adequately recognizing the deeds of the former soldiers and sailors will not be made a football of political leaders. The stands taken on the memorial question are as follows:

Republican—"We favor the erection of a state soldiers' memorial building, which will be commensurate, in every respect, with the services rendered and the sacrifices made by Indiana's soldiers, sailors and marines."

Democratic—"We pledge the General assembly of the state of Indiana, if Democratic, by proper legislation to provide a suitable memorial for her men and women who served during the war. Its dignity should be commensurate with the consecrated devotion of the dead; its use should be as headquarters for the several organizations of the living whose valued principles and patriotic purpose insure constitutional government and free institutions."

"We are proud that Indiana is honored with the permanent national headquarters of the American Legion and pledge ourselves in every way to justify the choice."

There is a feeling that, now that the people of the state have spoken so unanimously for the erection of a memorial, the proposed special session of the Legislature will take the matter up and dispose of it at once. The need of haste in the matter is unquestioned, for reports are constantly reaching Indianapolis that other cities are preparing to make a strong bid for the American Legion national headquarters when the organization meets in annual convention in Cleveland in September.

A belief is current that an extra session of the assembly will be called during the latter part of June and that one of the most important matters to come up will be legislation for the memorial. Members of the state war memorial committee, who have charge of the preliminary arrangements of the undertaking, believe that nothing can be gained by waiting until the next regular session of the legislature and they are convinced that the great majority of the law makers coincide with their views.

to him. It isn't usual for people nowadays to have as much respect for sentiment in an old duffer like me as the fellow has. He sort of makes me feel as if I hadn't sold at all."

Buck Ogilvy came out of the Bon Gusto restaurant with Moira, just as Bryce, with George Sea Otter at the wheel of the Napier, drove up to the curb. They left Moira at her boarding house, and rolled noiselessly away.

At nine o'clock they arrived at Cardigan's log landing and found Jim Harding, the hill-donkey engineer, placidly smoking his pipe in the cab. Bryce hailed him.

"That you, Jim?"

"You bet."

"Run up to Jabe Curtis' shanty and tell him we're here. Have him gather his gang and bring two pairs of overalls and two jumpers—large size—with him when he comes."

Presently the woods-boss, accompanied by thirty of his best men, came down to the log landing. At Bryce's order they clambered aboard the engine and tender, hanging on the steps, on the roof of the cab, on the cow-catcher—anywhere they could find a foothold. Buck Ogilvy cut off the air; and the locomotive and tender began to glide slowly down the almost imperceptible grade. With a slight click it cleared the switch and slid out onto the Cardigan lateral, swiftly gathering speed. A quarter of a mile down the line Buck Ogilvy applied the brakes and eased her down to twenty miles per hour.

At the junction with the main line Buck backed briskly up into the Laguna Grande woods, and coupled to the two loaded flat cars. The woods gang scrambled aboard the flats, and the train pulled out for Sequoia. Forty minutes later they rumbled down Water street and slid to a grinding halt at the intersection of B street.

From the darkness of Cardigan's drying yard, where they had been waiting, twenty picked men of the mill crew now emerged, bearing lanterns and tools. Under Buck Ogilvy's direction the dirt promptly began to fly, while the woods crew unloaded the rails and piled them close to the sidewalk.

Suddenly a voice, harsh and strident with passion, rose above the thud of the picks and the clang of metal.

"Who's in charge here, and what in blazes do you mean by cutting my tracks?"

Bryce turned in time to behold Col. Seth Pennington leap from an automobile and advance upon Buck Ogilvy. Ogilvy held a lantern up to the Colonel's face and surveyed Pennington calmly.

"Colonel," he began with exasperating politeness. "I presume you are Colonel Pennington—my name is Buchanan P. Ogilvy, and I am in charge of these operations. I am the vice president and general manager of the N. C. O., and I am engaged in the blithe task of making a jump crossing of your rails. Have a cigar." And he thrust a perfect under the Colonel's nose. Pennington struck it to the ground, and on the instant, half a dozen rough rascals emptied their shovels over him. He was deluged with dirt.

"Stand back, Colonel, stand back, if you please. You're in the way of the shovellers," Buck Ogilvy warned him soothingly.

Bryce Cardigan came over, and at sight of him Pennington choked with fury. "You—you—" he spluttered, unable to say more.

"I'm the N. C. O.," Bryce replied. "Nice little fiction flit of yours about the switch-engine being laid up in the shops and the Laurel creek bridge being unsafe for this big mogul." He looked Pennington over with frank admiration. "You're certainly on the job, Colonel. I'll say that much for you."

"You've stolen my engine," Pennington almost screamed. "I'll have the law on you for grand larceny."

"But—but! You don't know who stole your engine. For all you know, your own engine crew may have run it down here."

"I'll attend to you, sir," Pennington replied, and he turned to enter Mayor Poundstone's little diver.

"Not tonight, at least," Bryce retorted gently. "Having gone this far, I would be a poor general to permit you to escape now with the news of your discovery. You'd be down here in an hour with a couple of hundred members of your mill crew and give us the rush. You will oblige me, Colonel Pennington, by remaining exactly where you are until I give you permission to depart."

"And if I refuse—"

"Then I shall manhandle you, truss you up like a fowl in the tannery of your car, and gag you."

The VALLEY of the GIANTS

By PETER B. KYNE

The success of Bryce Cardigan's plan for getting his rails down from Laurel creek depended entirely upon the whimsy which might seize the crew of the big mogul that hauled the last load of logs out of Cardigan's red-woods on Thursday afternoon. Should the engineer and fireman decide to leave the locomotive at the logging camp for the night, Bryce's task would be as simple as turning a hose down a squirrel hole. On the other hand, should they run back to Sequoia with the engine, he and Ogilvy faced the alternative of "borrowing" it from the Laguna Grande Lumber company's roundhouse; and that operation, in view of the fact that Pennington's night watchman would be certain to hear the engine leaving, offered difficulties.

Throughout the afternoon, after having sent his orders in writing to the woods-boss, via George Sea Otter (for he dared not trust to the telephone), he waited in his office for a telephone call from the logging camp as to what action the engine crew had taken. Finally, at a quarter of six, Curtis, his woods boss, rang in.

"They're staying here all night, sir," he reported.

"House them as far from the log landing as possible, and organize a poker game to keep them busy in case they don't go to bed before eight o'clock," Bryce ordered. "In the meantime, send a man you can trust—Jim Harding, who runs the big bull-donkey, will do—down to the locomotive to keep steam up until I arrive."

He had scarcely hung up, when Buck Ogilvy came into the office. "Well?" he queried casually.

"Safe-o, Buck!" replied Bryce. "Nothing to do but get a bite of dinner and proceed to business."

Buck insisted on keeping an engagement to dine with Moira, and Bryce agreed to call for him at the Bon Gusto restaurant. Then Bryce went home to dine with his father. Old Cardigan was happier than his son had seen him since the return of the latter to Sequoia.

"Well, sonny, I've had a mighty pleasant afternoon," he declared as Bryce led him to the dinner table. "I've been up to the Valley of the Giants."

Bryce was amazed. "Why, how could you?" he demanded. "The old skid road is impassable, and after you leave the end of the skid road, the trail in to mother's grave is so overgrown with buckthorn and wild lilac I doubt if a rabbit could get through it comfortably."

"Not a bit of it," the old man replied. "Somebody has gone to work and planked that old skid road and put up a hand rail on each side, while the trail through the Giants has been grubbed out and smoothed over. All that old logging cable I abandoned in those choppings has been strung from tree to tree alongside the path on both sides. I can go up there alone now, once George sets me on the old skid road; I can't get lost."

"How did you discover this?"

"Judge Moore, representing the new owner, called round this morning and took me in tow. He said his client knew the property held for me a certain sentimental value which wasn't transferred in the deed, and so the Judge had been instructed to have the skid road planked and the forest trail grubbed out—for me. It appears that the valley is going to be a public park, after all, but for the present and while I live, it is my private park."

"This is perfectly amazing, partner," "It's mighty comforting," his father admitted. "Guess the new owner must be one of my old friends—perhaps somebody I did a favor for once—and this is his way of repaying. I'd like to know the name of the owner. I'd like mighty well to say thank you Want to Feel Just Right?

Take an NR Tonight

JUST TRY IT AND SEE how much better you feel in the morning. That "lousy," headachy, tired, don't-know-what's-the-matter feeling will be gone—you'll feel fine.

TROUBLE IS, your system is clogged with a lot of impurities that your over-worked digestive and eliminative organs can't get rid of. Pills, oil, salts, calomel and ordinary laxatives, cathartics and purges only force the bowels and prod the liver.

Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) acts on the stomach, liver, bowels and even kidneys, not forcing, but toning and strengthening these organs. The result is prompt relief and real, lasting benefit. Make the test. Nature's Remedy will act promptly, thoroughly, yet so mildly, so gently, that you will think nature herself has come to the rescue and is doing the work.

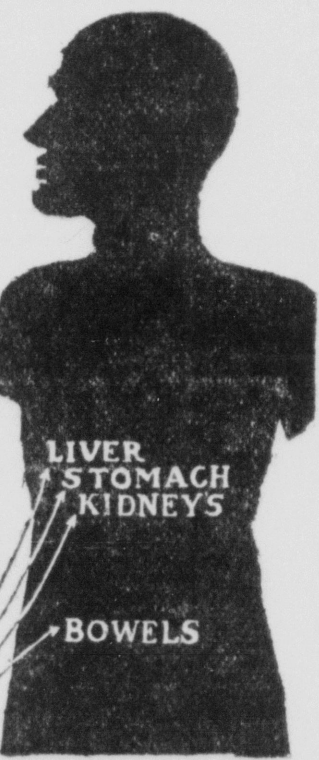

And oh, what a relief! You'll be surprised to find how much better you feel—brighter, better every way. If habitually or stubbornly constipated, take one NR Tablet each night for a week. Then you'll not have to take medicine every day. Just an occasional NR Tablet after that will be sufficient to keep your system in good condition—keep you feeling your best.

TREE OF HISTORIC INTEREST

Under Its Branches Jonathan Edwards
Composed Sermons That Made Him Famous as Preacher.

Recently one of the historic elm trees of the country was cut down. It stood in front of the house in Northampton, Mass., that was the home of the noted divine, Jonathan Edwards.
Legend says that in this tree he wrote
some of his sermons. We do know that he often sat in the seat built among the branches and that he read and wrote there. It does not seem possible that the burning denunciations of sin and the realistic descriptions of "hell-fire" so vivid as to cause
members of the congregation to faint as they listened, could have been penned in sight of the peaceful beauty of the Connecticut valley. Edwards' theology was, however, only typical of the times in which he lived. The old tree stood for many years after the preacher had gone to his reward. At last it became a menace and was cut down, leaving an enormous stump to testify to its age and size. A bronze tablet records the fact that Jonathan Edwards lived in the yellow brick house.—Grit.

$117,498, but if he tries to escape payment the girls will make sure that he shall not. About 50 complaints have already been received at the city hall

married, and asking that he be made to pay. All women are given credit

LIFE WAS A MISERY TO HER

Says this Woman Until Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Carrollton, Ky.—"I suffered almost two years with female weakness. I could not walk any distance, ride or take any exercise at
all without resting.
If I swept the floor
or did any kind of work it would bring my sickness on. I was weak and lan-
guid, had no energy,
and life was a misery
to me. I was under the care of a good physician for several months and tried other remedies.
I had read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it.
After taking twelve bottles I found myself much improved and I took six more. I have never had any more trouble in that respect since. I have done all kinds of work and at present
am an attendant at a State hospital and am feeling fine. I have recommended your Vegetable Compound to dozens of my friends and shall always recommend it."—LILLIAN THARP, 824 S.
